Wings 'n' Things

May 6 meeting will once again be at the Cactus Cantina

Maybe it's just my imagination, but maybe there really is more interest in Mopars from the automotive magazine world. Of course, we expect nothing but Mopar coverage in Mopar Action, Mopar Collector's Guide and Mopar Muscle, but I've seen a recent uptick in Mopar coverage in Hemmings Muscle Machines. If you're not familiar with HMM pick up a copy and take a look. It will bring back a lot of memories and reacquaint you with some of the strong street runners that you may have forgotten about as the magazine covers all brands. The magazine subtitle says it is "The Ultimate All-American Performance Car Magazine". In addition to the increased Mopar coverage they also have a couple of columnists that appear to be fairly Mopar-centered.

The February 2018 issue cover featured a 1971 Hemi Charger R/T and a six-page feature article on what the magazine called "HEMI's Last Hurrah", as 1971 was the final year of the 426 Hemi availability in production vehicles.

The recent June 2018 issue cover shows a 1969 Dodge Daytona and inside covers the restoration of the severely dilapidated project that was originally picked up in 1984 for $1500 and a small block Chevy engine. This article is 'Part 1' and promises 'Part 2: A 1969 Daytona Soars Again' in the upcoming July issue

HMM is more oriented toward factory restorations than modifications and features some great photos, if you're looking for reference on correct interiors and under hood areas. Each issue also features a fun "Muscle Car Scrapbook" where owners tell stories from their early muscle car ownership.

Pick up a copy and take a look.

Those of us that are drag racing fans all seem to agree that Pro Stock has lost its appeal since it seems to have turned into "Pro Camaro" - the current NHRA event entries consist of 17 Camaros and a single Dodge Dart. The class struggles to consistently field a full 16-car ladder.

Mopars & Friends at Extreme Automotive 2018

Talked with Phillip Leatherman at Extreme Automotive this past weekend and he is willing to hold another Mopars & Friends at Extreme Automotive this year. We will need to help with the food, maybe some setup. Looking at the same weekend as in the past (second Saturday in November). I know a group usually goes to the World Finals on Friday. Saturday morning will be the Flag for Every Hero flag placement at Riverside National Cemetery, but it usually goes fairly fast so you could still make it to Extreme by 10:30-11:00. Something to think about.

And speaking of Mopars at Extreme Automotive, I still have some Mopars at Extreme Automotive 2017 shirts left. Steve Backer was asking when they were going to go on sale. They have always been on sale, just not at a sale price. Now they are $10.00, with $3.00 still going to the toy drive fund. I have most sizes. I will have them at the May meeting or they can be shipped for postage.

It seems many fans wouldn't be sad to see Pro Stock go away and the usually suggested replacement seems to be the fairly new Factory Stock class that is made up of current production "modern muscle" Dodge Challengers, Chevrolet Camaros and Ford Mustangs. Competition like this is reminiscent of the old "Win on Sunday, Sell on Monday" marketing from back in the late '60s and early '70s.

What is interesting is how the class participation is so similar to what we find at open car shows. The Factory Stock class at the 2018 NHRA 4-Wide event in North Carolina this weekend is made up of 29 entries: 18 Chevrolet Camaros, 7 Ford Mustangs and 4 Dodge Challengers. That's 62% Chevy, 24% Ford and 14% Mopar. Sounds just like most car shows!

By the way, Leah Pritchett wheeled her 2015 Dodge Challenger to the No. 1 qualifying spot with an elapsed time of 8.047 seconds at 170.64mph. Factory "Stock"?

Speaking of car shows, congratulations to our Sam Frisby for sweeping the competition at the recent 10th Annual Chaffey College car show! Sam entered both his '62 Plymouth Savoy and '70 Plymouth GTX and walked away with 1st place awards for both cars. OUTSTANDING!

Our May 6th club meeting location has been confirmed for Cactus Cantina, 151 E. Alessandro Blvd, in Riverside. We will have their banquet room all to ourselves for breakfast and our club meeting. The restaurant owners are excited to host our May club meeting and hopeful we will decide on making this our "home". Their banquet room is usually not open on Sunday mornings but they are making it available to Inland Mopars for our monthly club meetings and bringing in additional personnel to handle our needs.

More importantly, this will be the final club meeting before our annual charity-benefit "Mopars In May At CSDR" on May 19-20. We will be going over the final plans for our show so please make every effort to attend this meeting to both check out this location for our monthly club meetings and get up to speed on our upcoming car show.

The restaurant opens at 9:00AM. As usual, be there at 9:00AM and we will get our monthly club business meeting started as close to 10:00AM as possible.

As always, thank you to everyone for all you do to make Inland Mopars Car Club the very best it can be - the club's reputation is a direct reflection of the members. //
